

Teachers Mad, But Workshop Okayed Anyway

Overriding strong objections from teachers, trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District (JESD) Monday night approved a contract calling for in-service teacher training June 20-24, the week following the closing of school.

Meeting in Fernando Rivera Intermediate School to accommodate the more than 400 persons who attended the Monday night session, trustees and district administrators exchanged angry words with teachers and taxpayers before approving the contract.

The contract itself, with Educators Improvement Service of Albany, specifies five days of workshops which the district's 400 teachers must attend.

JESD is requiring teachers to work the additional week to receive training in a number of fields designed to make the educational process more effective next September. Teachers, represented by the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association (JCTA), claim having to work the additional week conflicts with summer plans.

Teachers charge the district with forcing the five additional days on them as a lever in negotiations, since the district and its teachers have yet to agree on a 1976-77 contract.

The in-service training week was part of the school calendar approved June 30, 1976, and has been posted at schools since July 1.

Perhaps the angriest exchanges occurred between Gary Bieringer, newly elected president of the JCTA, and district Supt. Peter Hansen and Trustee Dorothy Adams.

Hansen said Dr. Vernon S. Larsen, director of the in-service training for Educators Improvement Service, was "emotionally distraught" over telephone calls he says he has received from teachers. Teachers, Hansen said, "have used abusive language, threatened a statewide boycott and threatened harm to Larsen and his company."

Larsen reportedly has written a letter to Hansen and trustees stating, in part, that his company "is disappointed that at the time we originally discussed the workshop, we were not informed of the problems and discrepancies in the district regarding the five-day period."

Bieringer said he discussed the situation in the district with Larsen, but denied making any threats to him. Bieringer also said he told Larsen he hoped "the phone calls would stop."

Fact-Finding Panel Chosen After Breakdown in Talks

With negotiations broken down in the Jefferson Elementary School District, Daly City, a fact-finding panel which will attempt to iron out some differences between the district and its teachers — has been appointed.

Teachers and the district have not agreed on a contract for the 1976-77 school year.

Fact-finding only occurs when mediation breaks down, according to Mariam Moss, chairperson of the teacher's bargaining team.

The three-person panel will hold its first meeting today, in executive session, to attempt to agree

EERB Transfers Teacher Request

By BILL HURSCHMANN

The Educational Employment Relations Board, on the staff level, is not empowered to seek an injunction on behalf of Jefferson Elementary School District teachers, an EERB spokesman said Tuesday.

Jim Tamm, regional director for EERB in San Francisco, said his staff cannot seek an injunction on behalf of JESD teachers "without first going through a formal hearing."

"However, in order to expedite this matter, we have transferred all documents received from the district and from the teachers to our three-man board in Sacramento," Tamm said.

The Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association, representatives for the district's 400 teachers, has asked EERB to seek an injunction on its behalf to halt a directive that teachers attend in-service training June 20-24, one week after the closing of schools.

EERB's Sacramento panel, Tamm said, can direct the regional staff to seek an injunction. "And, that is the only way we would go to court to file for such an action," Tamm said.

Tamm added, "We have never gone to court before and sought an injunction on a matter such as this. We did, however, have a request once that we rejected."

Tamm said if EERB decides not to file for an injunction, teachers still may decide to do so on their own.

Hansen accused Bieringer of "distorting" the issues.

Mrs. Adams then asked the JCTA president: "Was it your belief that if you managed to sabotage the in-service training you would force the district to make a gift of the last week to the teachers? Is it your intention to extort from the district?"

Bieringer responded: "I'm not lowering myself to answer that question."

Virginia Duggan, Daly City, then asked Board President Alvin Schwarzbach to read the in-service contract.

"I don't think that is really necessary," Schwarzbach said.

"Well," she said, "if you knew about the workshop in July of 1976, can you tell me, as a taxpayer, why it is necessary, two weeks before June 20, to just now get around to signing a hasty contract?"

Trustees did not respond, although Hansen said following the meeting that such a time factor is not unusual in these situations, since the services are always available.

Redge Martin asked why retiring and temporary teachers are required to attend the workshops.

"It is necessary to fulfill your contract," Hansen told Martin. "I don't need to rationalize it. We feel there is something in this for everyone."

The vote on the contract was 4-0, with James Cranna abstaining. Cranna wanted to make sure the district would not be obligated to pay Educators Improvement Service its $13,365 fee for the workshops in case the situation changes.

JCTA has asked the state Education Employment Relations Board to issue an injunction to halt the district's in-service training work week directive. A decision is expected this week.

Bieringer said, following the vote, "I'm really not surprised, but I had hoped our trustees would see the folly in this whole situation."

"Our teachers don't want it. The firm employed by the district has its doubts. I must say I'm disappointed by the approval, but I'm not surprised."

Workshops planned as part of the training include: Discovering Reading Problems and Teaching the Slow Learner to Read, Infusing Career Education into the Curriculum, Individualizing the Teaching of Students who have Learning Disabilities, Dealing with Student Misbehavior, Time Management for Today's Teachers and Development of the Creative Potential of Every Child.

is advisory only. The school board does not have to take the panel's advice."

Miss Moss said the fact-finding usually takes between 30 and 40 days, and that once it is concluded a report is presented to the district's trustees. At that time, the report becomes public record.

Teachers, who have worked the past 11 months without a contract, Miss Moss said, have asked EERB to reject a district requirement that teachers work the week of June 20-24.

The district is requiring teachers to work the additional week to receive in-service training for next September. School ends June 16, and teachers claim the additional work week interferes with summer plans.

There are about 400 certificated employees in the district, and about three-fourths of them are members of the JCTA. The association, however, officially represents all district teachers.

Rev. Howard Defends Day Care Operation

Reaction was swift and strong Friday to the release of a joint San Mateo County-Daly City fiscal audit and program review of the Daly City Community for Children's Services.

The DCCCS' defenders and detractors came out in full force to the late afternoon hearing on the just-released reports. About 40 persons were on hand at the Daly City Civic Center and about 15 of them spoke.

Most prominent was the Rev. Raymond Howard, president of the DCCCS Board of Directors. Much of the program review detailed criticism of the day care center's operations and called for action "to reduce the authority of the President of the Board."

Rev. Howard, visibly angry after the lengthy report was read to an attentive audience, shouted into the microphone.

He addressed his remarks to the audit review panel composed of Daly City Mayor Albert Teglia and Councilman Anthony Giammona, as well as six other city, county and state officials.

"Was anything lacking in day care?" He said in response to the program review's criticism of management procedures. "All these things are not relevant to day care."

He demanded to know how the DCCCS Board of Directors had violated the state's open meeting laws, as the report suggested.

Don Fleming, Daly City's Community Development Director and a member of the program review team, said board meetings were held "in faraway spots not accessible to parents."

Fleming also noted that a recent meeting featured only 15 minutes of open session with no attempt to justify the lengthy executive session that followed.

Ann Cooper, the former DCCCS director whose firing for "insubordination" sparked the city-county audit, commended the report and said "drastic changes must be made."

She said the bylaws "that permit the autocratic rule of the board president" must be totally reworked, a personnel policy instituted and employees be given duties that don't "change from day to day."

Ms. Cooper said she has been under "emotional and economic stress," because the board refused to grant her two weeks of severance pay. She said she has won the pay in civil court, but Howard has appealed the court's action.

Other speakers included about 14 parents, teachers, board members and other Daly City residents.

Two thirds of the speakers criticized the board's control of the center, but all speakers emphasized the need for a continuing day care center operation.

"I'm a member of the board but it seems like I'm not," said Inez Grant, a parent who utilizes DCCCS services. "If you say anything at a board meeting, you're out of order. He (the Rev. Howard) treats us like we're low-class, because we're low-income."

However, Adrienne Shapiro, the director of the center since March, said, "I don't believe parents are — See DEFENDS, Page 2

Sewer Charge To Be Based On Water Use; No Flat Fee

In a unanimous decision Monday, the North San Mateo County Sanitation District Board of Directors voted to institute a sewer charge on water use rather than a flat fee.

It is the first time the district, which serves Daly City and the areas of Colma and Broadmoor, has adopted a user-based fee.

The charges, which go into effect July 1, include a 53-cent fee per 100 cubic feet of water consumed. The use-based fee will provide for maintenance, operation and depreciation of the new plant facilities. The new facilities, located on Lake Merced Boulevard in Daly City, are 75 per cent completed.

The facilities will provide secondary treatment of sewage now required by the state Water Quality Control Agency. Previously, sewer districts have completed only primary treatment before sewage water has been released into the bay and ocean.

A second sewer charge of six cents per $100 of assessed valuation will be levied on property owners for sewer district capital outlay funding.

The new charges will replace the current $31 flat fee imposed this year for plant construction and a 26-cent tax rate charge for maintenance and operations.

Board member Anthony Giammona said the new method of utilizing water consumption to determine charges could result in savings for those who don't use much water.

"The heavy users will be paying more," Giammona added.

One resident, Robert Kerr of Daly City, was on hand to complain of the possibility that charges might go up for individual homeowners.

"The homeowner is taking too much of a beating this year," Kerr said.

Jefferson Looks To Slash $500,000

If the Jefferson Elementary School District is going to balance its budget for 1977-78, it will have to slice more than $500,000 from initial proposals, trustees learned Monday night.

Dr. John Trompeter, assistant superintendent for administrative services, told the Board of Trustees the district faces a total deficit of $547,577.

"After elimination of this deficit, a further appropriation of at least $500,000 should be made to the district's reserve account," he said.

Trustees took no action on the budget Monday night, but indicated they will take a close look at the document June 20, and aim to adopt a tentative budget on June 27. By law, they must adopt a tentative budget by July 1.

Since the 1970-71 school year, Trompeter said, the district's average daily attendance has dropped 15 per cent while employee benefits have risen 148 per cent, salaries 35 per cent and the total number of district employees has gone up 20 per cent.

"The truth of the matter is that there just isn't any way we can balance the budget," Trompeter said, "although those of us who follow state legislation certainly expect favorable monies. But it is unreasonable to think we'll get enough."

Trompeter said 93 per cent of the district's total general fund budget, estimated to be more than $13 million for 1977-78, is in salaries.

He said the Jefferson district probably has the lowest pupil-teacher ratio in San Mateo County, estimated to be 18-1 next year.

This remark brought guffaws from the teacher-partisan crowd of more than 400, and a call for order from Trustee Dorothy Adams.

here with expertise that far surpasses the expertise of this board and our staff," she said, to which a large number of the audience moaned. "No doubt."

"I would like to witness some courtesy," Mrs. Adams shot back. "Common decency requires it."

The crowd then quieted. Public comment on the budget was sparse, but Gary Bieringer, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association, did defend the pupil-teacher ratio.

"Most of us here have 30, 35 or 40 students in our classes," he said. "Seventy-five to 80 per cent of the classrooms have this. To imply the ratio is 18-1 is wrong."

As part of his proposal to the board, Trompeter submitted a four-page list of items which could be eliminated.

Items for possible deletion range from 24 microscopes for Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School (total cost: $3,528), to two primary reading tables for M. H. Tobias Elementary School (at a cost of $200).

In addition, Trompeter listed 36 site improvement items which could be deleted.

Center

purpose of this audit was to ascertain only the propriety and accuracy of monies under the sponsorship of Daly City and San Mateo County.

Mrs. Marian Jackson, an official from the California State Office of Child Development, made it clear in the Friday hearing that the $53,564 total allocation in state monies only was intended for reimbursement for "vendor services."

Vendor services, she explained, would be reimbursements for day care services provided by sources other than the DCCCS center. A licensed day care home is a common vendor, for example.

Besides the $25,711 lump sum payment in December, the DCCCS has since received about $9,000 more of the $53,564 total allocation. According to county officials, only a few thousand dollars has been spent.

Mrs. Jackson said the state was not aware until the audit that a portion of the AB 3059 monies was deposited in a center operations account.

"We feel that it was primarily a misunderstanding and we hope to clear it up," she said of the funds transfer. "Apparently the vendor funds are available in bank accounts for return to the state."

She said the DCCCS will be billed at the end of the fiscal year (June 30) for the monies and the considerable portion of unused funding will revert to the state's general fund.

That's precisely the point that both county officials.

"Day care is very much needed in this area," said Graham in a press briefing. "The funds will go back to the state and nothing can be done. Day care could have been provided in other slots beside the center for low income families."

Graham also raised the question that the state could have been provided with misleading information about city and county funding. He said DCCCS officials were told several months ago to explain fully to the state the depth of the county and city funding.

Mrs. Jackson said she didn't know if DCCCS had withheld any funding information.

She noted that the day care corporation still is eligible for vendor service monies during the next year, although the current year's level of use will be evaluated.

The city-county program review stated that "to achieve the continued operation of a community-based center in an efficient and effective manner, the following options appear to be available:"

- "Make continued funding of existing sponsor (DCCCS) contingent upon satisfactory compliance with organizational reforms."

- Allow Daly City "to assume temporary direct administration until another corporate sponsor can be organized to take over direct operations."

- "Invite bids from competing organizations to utilize the city's facility (350 Lowell St.) in the continued provision of child day care services."

On a long-range basis, the report recommends that city and county general financial support "be gradually decreased as county, state and federal categorical day care funding increases and local center operations stabilize."

In order to achieve this long-range goal, the report recommends that the state "reconcile possible double reimbursement," that more vendor care be utilized in the future and that Daly City coordinate all funding sources.

The program review and fiscal audit will be considered by city and county officials before action is taken.

Post Office Workers Plan Info Picket

Postal workers and residents of Daly City, concerned about announced cutbacks at their Post Office — will hold an informational picket line Thursday, from 2:30-5:30 p.m. at the main post office at 88th and Sullivan.

Focus of their campaign is in the plan announced by Postal Service management to move all Daly City postal mail processing — and about 50 per cent of the city's postal clerks — to Rincon Annex in San Francisco.

Mail will be sorted there by 13 giant machines, which cost over $2,500,000 to buy.

Sponsoring the picket line is Save Our Service (SOS), a coalition of postal workers and persons from several California cities who have united to halt the cutbacks at their post offices.

SOS contends the nationwide centralized mail processing plan will result in delays and poorer service mis-sent mail, elimination of jobs and closing of post offices.

Postal management denies the charges.

ment. "But it seemed to me to cooperate with the Rev. Howard or else."

Rick Silver, administrative aide for Assemblyman Louis Papan, who has worked with the DCCCS board on bylaws revision, asked the audit review panel to "go back to your agencies and seriously consider turning over the operation of the day care center to another organization."

Silver concluded that after working with the DCCCS board, he doesn't feel enough changes have been made yet to its bylaws and methods of administering the day care center.

that interested in the board except for a handful. Why aren't they at board meetings? There are openings on the board."

"Connie Reeves, another parent who has served on the board, had an answer for her."

"I don't come to the meetings, because it does no good," she said. "Children are never discussed. Nothing important is brought up. You sit there and listen to Mr. Howard scream."

Marilyn Bell, who noted that she had served on the board in the past, said she resigned, "because of the board practices. One center director was hired and fired the same day. There's no trust between the board members and the staff."

Toni Lake, a teacher at the DCCCS, said she was "up here speaking at the jeopardy of losing my job." Ms. Lake said, "When I've gone to board meetings, I haven't been able to express myself. Staff members should be given more input."

"There shouldn't be all of this sneaky-sneaky going on," she concluded.

Board members Nemer Gonzales and Dorothy

Howard both defended their positions on the DCCCS board as being that of original founders. Both have received criticism because Gonzales' wife, Rhina, is a center employee and Mrs. Howard is married to the board president.

Park Payment Fight Expected

The developers of San Bruno's first condominium complex are expected to fight a requirement that they pay the city $78,390 for public parks and recreation development.

The Planning Commission Monday night approved a recommendation to the City Council that Dr. Weldon Crabb of South San Francisco pay the city the $78,390, an amount equal to the fair market value of 1.09 acres of land.

Last month, the commission approved Crabb's plans for an 87-unit complex on the west side of Cherry Avenue, adjacent to "The Place" apartments.

It was the first condominium project approved in San Bruno.

Proposed Veto Power Opposed

Brisbane Bid in Mountain Project Rebuffed

By JANET PARKER
A proposal to include Brisbane in the approval process of the San Bruno Mountain development was blasted last week by South San Francisco councilmen.

And a representative of Visitation Associates — the developers who plan to build on portions of the North County mountain — said the entire project could be scrapped if Brisbane has the power to veto the development.

Councilmen said that if South San Francisco is to provide services for the project — such as police and fire protection — the city should be entirely responsible for its supervision.

When the city and taxpayers are footing the whole bill, it seems South San Francisco should have "strict and sole right" to plan development, Councilman Terry Mirri said.

"They have no more right in this than we do to veto what goes on in Brisbane," Councilman Dick Battaglia said.

The County Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) has proposed that the south slope and the Bowl Area of San Bruno Mountain be annexed to the city of South San Francisco.

Annexation procedures were spurred by Visitation Associates earlier this year with a letter to LAFCO, asking that South San Francisco have control over the presently unincorporated lands.

The area above South San Francisco is the only area Visitation has salvaged from its massive mountain development proposal that erupted into controversy last year. The county Board of Supervisors refused to approve development on an area known as the saddle, and Visitation contends that development of other mountain areas are financially unfeasible without the Saddle.

South San Francisco essentially supports the LAFCO staff recommendation that the share of influence over the south slope and Bowl Areas be assigned to South San Francisco. Eventually, it is expected that the lands would be annexed to that city.

However, South San Francisco is objecting strongly to the LAFCO recommendation that "the city of Brisbane be included in the specific plan review and approval process for the proposed development of the Bowl Area."

The city is expected to lodge a protest to that provision at a LAFCO meeting on San Bruno Mountain's sphere of influence today in South San Francisco.

City Manager Walter Birkelo said inclusion of neighboring Brisbane "is not justified by the facts presented."

"The very creation of the LAFCO concept was to eliminate the conflicts experienced between local jurisdictions and not to promote possible conflicts," Birkelo said.

He added it appears that LAFCO would have to intercede in the development if South San Francisco and Brisbane could not reach an agreement on the future of the Bowl Area.

Visitation's preliminary proposal is to build 1,036 dwelling units, 20 acres of combined neighborhood — commercial and industrial development and 10 additional acres of neighborhood commercial buildings along with 6.21 acres of parks.

Birkelo pointed out that LAFCO has said development in the Bowl Area would affect the city of Brisbane nearly as much as South San Francisco. He argued that the LAFCO statement is entirely untrue.

"The annexation to South San Francisco would not require Brisbane to provide water service, sanitary services, public works or street maintenance services, parks or library services, fire services or police services," Birkelo said.

The only possible effect on Brisbane, he said, is an increase in traffic along Old Bayshore Highway. But even then, he said, the impact will be insignificant since there's little traffic now on that road.

Councilmen agreed that LAFCO should be formally told that they believe inclusion of Brisbane would confuse and impede the entire development process.

Mirri said Brisbane often claims that the "big eats up the small, but in this case the small is trying to eat up the big."

Councilman Leo Padredillo said that long ago South San Francisco helped out Brisbane by supporting its request for annexation of a strip of Old Bayshore Highway. Now it appears, he said, Brisbane is working against its neighbor.

"I can't see why... they wouldn't want to cooperate with us," he said. "This is very puzzling to me."

Ron Grudzinski of Visitation said the developers strongly oppose inclusion of Brisbane in the approval process. If that occurs, he said, Visitation will "completely review" its plans.

"It will cause a duplication of your staff time, our time and your time," he told the council. The LAFCO recommendation, he said, is "totally inappropriate."

"We're ready to vault into that process but we need an indication of what city we're dealing with," Grudzinski said.

The city also is asking that the lands be annexed to South San Francisco before the petition and hearing process gets underway. City Planner Bill Costanzo said this would allow hearings in South San Francisco rather than in Redwood City.

However, Visitation is asking that annexation occur after permit hearings are held.

Colma Studies Zoning

The Colma City Council is to consider a preliminary proposal tonight for a zoning change that would permit construction of two public storage warehouses on Junipero Serra Boulevard.

The proposed warehouses would be located on a parcel behind Woodlawn Cemetery. Construction would require a change from G-1 to C-2 zoning.

The project would consist of rows of warehouse cubicles which could be rented by individual users. It would be planned and constructed by Knappe Development Co.

The council will hear the concept at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

In other business, the council is to hold second readings on several ordinances to increase dog license fees adopt a consent calendar, provide for fire district tax collection and adopt procedures for use of environmental impact reports.

Brisbane, South SF Cooperation Periled

A traditionally amicable relationship between the cities of Brisbane and South San Francisco appears to be breaking down in a rivalry for control over industrial development on San Bruno Mountain.

Officials from both cities say that the spirit of cooperation has reigned between the neighboring municipalities for many years and they want it to continue.

But, both cities' staffs think that they each should have control over the Bowl

Area, the 20 acres where Visitation Associates of San Francisco plans to construct revenue-producing industrial and commercial buildings.

The two cities each plan to campaign for ownership of the Bowl Area at a meeting of the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) today in South San Francisco.

Brisbane's recent effort to be assigned sphere of influence over the Bowl Area comes as a total surprise to South San Francisco. Once LAFCO designates the sphere of influence for any unincorporated area to a particular city, it's expected that the land eventually will be annexed to that city.

South San Francisco has estimated that the proposed Bowl Area development would generate $66,000 a year in tax revenue.

"They have not bothered to even talk to us about this," said South San Francisco City Planner Bill Costanzo concerning Brisbane's sudden desire for control.

Costanzo said that in joint meetings between the two cities last year, there was no question that Brisbane would support annexation of the Bowl Area by South San Francisco.

"It's not our position to fight with Brisbane," he said. "We want to cooperate with them."

However, Costanzo said Brisbane's sudden interest in the Bowl Area is a surprise.

Brisbane City Manager Brad Kerwin said his City Council voted last week to ask LAFCO to assign the sphere of influence to that city.

"We can make a stronger case than South San Francisco can for control of the Bowl," Kerwin said.

Kerwin just recently was appointed city manager. He said that recent information obtained by Brisbane led to the change of position.

"Brisbane's considered position at that time with the Bowl was not terribly well thought out," Kerwin said.

Visitation plans to build

1,036 living units on the south slope of the mountain and a combination of neighborhood-commercial and industrial buildings on the Bowl Area.

The staff of LAFCO — which ultimately must decide which city will annex the lands — has recommended that the sphere of influence be assigned to South San Francisco with Brisbane included in the final approval process for the Bowl.

South San Francisco objects to the formal inclusion of Brisbane in the process, while Brisbane says it should have sole control over the Bowl.

Kerwin said Brisbane will endure several negative effects from the mountain development. The revenues it would gain from ownership of the Bowl Area would offset those negative impacts, he said.

For example, he said, Brisbane would be required to improve the existing Old Bayshore Highway currently in its city limits alongside the proposed mountain development site.

In addition, Kerwin said he believes that Brisbane can provide better municipal services to the development than the city of South San Francisco.

Brisbane is closer to the Bowl Area, he said, and Brisbane police patrol the area already.

Brisbane City Engineer Jim Carroll said it's true that the two cities have cooperated in the past. But it now appears, he said, that South San Francisco's definition of cooperation "is what's good for South San Francisco."

Brisbane officials have no quarrel with the proposal to assign the sphere of influence for the adjacent south slope where dwelling will be built to South San Francisco.

Costanzo said it's "absurd" for Brisbane to say that it can provide better municipal services to the Bowl.

The LAFCO report, he said, states that South San Francisco can provide better police and fire protection.

Judge Ponders Request

San Mateo County Superior Court Judge William Lanam took under submission last week a request by teachers to order the Millbrae School District to arbitrate a dispute involving the extension of instructional hours.

The county's presiding judge, however, said he was inclined to order the arbitration "as the best way to resolve the problem."

But he said he wanted time to consider a district argument that the teachers waited too long to file a grievance relating to working hours.

Twenty teachers at Taylor Intermediate School have accused the school district of "playing a numbers game" in scheduling teacher assignments.

The teachers, represented by the Millbrae Education Association, have charged that an additional school period they are required to work this year violates their current contract, which says "there shall be no increase in the instruction day."

Since September the teachers at Taylor have been required to instruct six classes a day rather than five, as in previous years.

A decision to extend the instructional day was made last September. In that month the teachers began talking informally with the district to resolve the dispute. Their efforts failed.

On March 7 they brought their concern to the school board. Trustees voted 4-0 with one abstention, not to hear the teachers' grievance.

In April MEA attorney Duane Beeson filed papers petitioning the Superior Court to order arbitration on the grievance.

Last week Beeson argued that the teachers seek advisory arbitration to resolve the dispute, although they understand that the results of such a procedure would not be binding on either party.

"The teachers want to use the arbitration of this issue to seek public support and use it as leverage in current negotiations," Beeson told Judge Lanam.

Boys Chorus Sets Auditions

Spring auditions for the San Francisco Boys Chorus will be held June 4 at St. Francis Lutheran Church from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boys between the ages of 7 and 12 with good, unchanged voices who are interested in securing a place at the auditions should telephone the chorus office at 431-5450 for an appointment.

No previous training is required, but would-be chorus members must be able to sing one song from memory. Some scholarship aid is available.

Those who wish to hear for themselves why the San Francisco Boys Chorus is among the most highly acclaimed chorale groups in the country, are invited to attend the Chorus' Annual Spring Concert on June 12 at 7 p.m. at St. Mary's Cathedral, Gough and Geary streets, San Francisco.

Highlight of the evening concert will be the performance of the complete "Chichester Psalms" of Leonard Bernstein, featuring the entire Chorus and the Alumni Chorus, accompanied by harpist Marcella De Cray and organist Richard Coulter.

A special feature of the concert will be a performance by the Chorus' Tintinnabulists, a group of English handbell ringers.

Tickets at $12.50 (patrons), $5 and $3 will be available at the door, or may be reserved by calling 431-5450.

Completes Doctorate

Albert J. Figone, 283 Station Ave., Daly City, will receive a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Utah on June 11.

The 39-year-old Daly City man completed requirements for a physical education doctorate, with sport psychology as his main emphasis.

Figone is head baseball coach and assistant football coach at San Francisco State University.

He is a 1955 graduate of Jefferson High School in Daly City.

BART Reveals Winners

From about 3,000 entries in its special Memorial Day "guesstimate" contest, BART now has 20 winners. It has been announced.

Lorelle Carley, Daly City, was among the winners.

The contest called for guessing how many actual trips were taken on the system during the Memorial Day holiday Monday, May 30. When all the figures were tabulated the actual ridership came to 72,802, which is more than a 40 percent increase over last year's 50,000 trips.

Winning entry guesses ranged from 69,000 to 77,000. The closest entry guess came from Sergio Gerin of Oakland who estimated Memorial Day ridership at 72,000.

Guesstimate winners will receive a certificate good for a family box seat to a Giant's game of their choice during the remainder of the baseball season.

Celebrating Fourth Year

Samuel Chandler

Meet Cheryl Jern. She is in private practice as a divorce counselor in San Francisco. She also is a YWCA director and a licensed clinical social worker.

Writing in a YWCA sheet known as "The Women's Forum," (April 1977), she charges that among the biggest challenges facing American women is "independence vs. dependence." She writes that the American society raises girls to be dependent upon men, making them psychologically dependent as well. "The very same way in which females are raised and socialized to be women is the very same way that women are dependent on their husbands."

"The male counterpart plugs into the scheme," she charges, "by trying to meet the expectation of strength, aggression and independence."

As a result, a woman who passes through divorce finds herself "weak, passive, demure, and dependent while her husband remains strong, aggressive, successful and independent."

Ms. Jern believes a society which creates such a condition leaves both men and women pathologically unable to grow, either within a marriage or after a divorce.

It is time, Ms. Jern says, "to face up." In doing so society in general, and women in particular, face some huge problems.

One of these is lack of money. The self-sufficient, successful men of America — not women — control the sources of significant amounts of money. Consequently, Advocates for Women and other organizations that desire a change have no funds. Moreover, the women who belong to such organizations don't know how to raise money, while few have developed the qualities of leadership needed to "sell their case."

Ms. Jern warns women that they must be willing to take risks and to assume responsibilities presently left to men. They must cease to live with assumptions and generalities. For example: equality, liberty and justice are deeply felt by most Americans, but are not enjoyed by dependent, passive people. To obtain them, women must develop their "independent sides."

To help do just that for women, there is a section in the June issue of "Harper's Bazaar" entitled "Strategy-for-Success Guide." In it may be found Nathaniel Lande's and Afton Slade's formula for "How to Come to Terms with Yourself." There is an interview in which Dr. Howard Halpern discusses how girls may come to terms with their parents. In another article in the June issue, Kathryn Rose Gertz discusses 15 ways to land a job. An article by Timothy Bay reveals some "Unlikely Routes to the Top." In still another article, there is a discussion by H. C. Sherwood on how to use credit wisely. A quiz by Dr. Salvatore V. Didato seeks to determine if a person is ready for marriage.

The Harper's articles are illustrative of many that seek to change the role of women on the American scene. Perhaps their concern can be summarized by Cheryl Jern's contention that the first step for American women is to achieve psychological independence.

Marcus Retires From Commission

Dr. Irwin Marcus, Burlingame, a well known innovator in the Probation Department and his community, has retired from the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Commission after serving on it for eight years.

Dr. Marcus was elected chairman of the commission by his colleagues in 1973 and 1974. He was first appointed to the commission by Superior Court Judge W. Howard Hartley in 1969, and was reappointed to the commission by Superior Court Judge Lyle Edson in 1973.

Prior to his commission responsibilities, Dr. Marcus served on the Camp Glenwood Resource Committee since 1962, and chaired the committee from 1965 to 1969. Through the efforts of Dr. Marcus and the Resource Committee, numerous improvements were made to the camp to the benefit of the youths residing there.

Dr. Marcus was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine in dentistry in 1951, and went on active duty in the United States Navy Medical Corps (Dentistry) during the Korean conflict. Dr. Marcus left the military service in 1954 and established his orthodontic practice in San Francisco at that time. He and his family have resided in Burlingame since 1954. Dr. Marcus continues to be active in local dental and orthodontic organizations, and has served in leadership capacities with both the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

No BART Hike Seen

BART General Manager Frank C. Herringer has recommended to the Administration Committee of the District's Board of Directors the adoption of a balanced budget for the 1977/78 fiscal year, without a fare increase.

Monday service beginning in November, direct Richmond/Daly City service in March 1978, and a contingency of nearly $5 million for the possible power costs.

Herringer said the recommended budget "demonstrated that BART is determined to operate within available fiscal resources, maintain its fares at reasonable levels, and at the same time improve its service."

"In fact, if power costs are at normal levels, BART could experience a surplus of over $5 million, after all available sources of funds (including the one-half cent sales tax) are taken into consideration," he said. "If extraordinary power costs materialize as a result of the drought a surplus of approximately $100,000 would still be achieved."

The budget, built around the District's goals and objectives, is actually based on a reduced level of staffing required to operate the current BART service. The total projected expense of $82.3 million, however, includes provision for Sat-

More Riders

BART saw about a 40 percent increase in patronage for this Memorial Day over the same holiday last year according to District analysts' preliminary figures.

Ridership during this Memorial Day holiday reached approximately 70,000, representing a 40 percent gain over last year's 50,000 trips.

This year BART reduced fares to a maximum of 50 cents for all one way trips and excursion rides.

'Birthday' Luncheon

Members of the Westlake Senior Citizens group are reminded that today is the deadline for reservations to the club's birthday luncheon.

Mrs. Ernestine Vetter, the publicity chairman, says Mrs. Emily Pappas has been chairing the committee, which will put on the celebration next Wednesday.

Louanne Heath

Mrs. Millie Machens, president of the club, will preside at today's regular session and at the special program next week.

MEMBERS OF the Balboa Alumni Association Board of Directors will meet tomorrow at the school to discuss summer business which will include a cake sale at the Tanforan shopping center on July 17 and a alumni picnic in August.

Serving on the Executive Board are North Peninsula residents Lidia Chagonjian, San Bruno; Frank Galo, Daly City and Gerald Skagfjord, Redwood City.

WESTLAKE resident Dr. Troy Daniels was presented with a citation for his contribution to the quality of pharmacy education by the School of Pharmacy at the University of Pacific during that school's commencement ceremonies.

VERNA TEGLIA, retiring president of the Friends of the Daly City Library, was honored by the presentation of two valuable old California history volumes to the local library.

The tomes, reconditioned and beautiful in their original bindings, were printed in 1885, and are of special interest to Mrs. Teglia, because her ancestors were among the early Spanish settlers in the Monterey area. After she has had an opportunity to read the volumes they will be placed in the library's history room collection.

The ceremony honoring Mrs. Teglia was a part of the program of the annual meeting of the Friends of the Library and other important business on the evening's agenda included the election of officers, the exhibit of art and craft by members of the unit, and a ballet demonstration and discussion by Leslie Crockett and Kathy Duggan.

Officers for the 1977-78 term will be Mrs. Virginia Tierney, president; Mrs. Betty Martinez, vice president; Mrs. Cecelia Enright, recording secretary; Mrs. Frances Lee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lois Manbert, treasurer; Mrs. Teglia, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Doris Chin, Mrs. Virginia Duckett and Mrs. Selma Foge are the directors.

Taking part in the arts and crafts display were Mrs. Jean Lewin, Rush Manbert and Mrs. Tierney, oils; Mrs. Elvira Sunnell, watercolors; Mrs. Barbara Bullis, Mrs. Margaret Connolly and Mrs. Joan Marshall, embroidered pictures or hangings. Mrs. Teglia exhibited an afghan and Mrs. Myrtle Woodcock displayed a crocheted place mat set. Janice Tierney had done a crocheted animal toy which she exhibited and Mrs. Olga Canada entered a scenic planter and Mrs. Enright contributed a fossil, found locally, to the exhibit.

NOW IS the time to sign up for the Ecumenical Vietnamese Assistance Committee's picnic to be held in Mitchell Park in Palo Alto, on June 26.

Sister Jeanenne will accept calls for reservations.

Jefferson Offers Summer Classes

The greatly-expanded summer session for adults in Daly City and Pacifica will begin the week of June 20-23. Classes will run for eight weeks, instead of six.

And the number and variety of courses offered has been doubled from three years ago.

Persons can choose from many courses previously offered only during regular sessions, such as semantics and writers workshop, bookkeeping and typing, as oil painting and cooking, and many others.

With the longer session, students needing high school credit may obtain it in many classes.

Graphoanalysis, the study of personality through handwriting, has proved so popular that three classes will be offered Monday evenings at Terra Nova High, Wednesdays at Serramonte, and Thursdays at Westmoor. Also listed for three classes is the three-week-only series on Hunter Safety Training, on Mondays at Terra Nova, Tuesdays at Jefferson, and Wednesdays at Westmoor.

Other courses offered include Mondays, sewing in knit fabrics at Serramonte.

Tuesdays, Reading for speed and power, an individualized way to improve reading at Westmoor; introduction to transactional analysis at Westmoor.

Wednesday, jewelry fabrication at Serramonte.

Thursdays, basic real estate for the layman at Westmoor; cooking for company at Westmoor.

For more information and a brochure, phone the Jefferson Adult Division at 755-8558.

Marina SSF School Plan is Closure Due? Delayed

South San Francisco residents attending a City council meeting last week on the fate of the proposed $8.4 million Oyster Point Marina expansion didn't learn until 10:45 p.m. that the matter was being postponed again.

The council was scheduled last Wednesday to either approve or reject an agreement with Daniel, Mann, Johnson and Mendenhall for more consulting services related to the controversial development.

Pressure by a citizens group has forced the council to consider the possibility of placing the marina expansion proposal on a citywide ballot, rather than proceeding on its own.

But it wasn't until after Councilman William Borba gave a long explanation of why the matter should go on a ballot that City Manager Walter Birkelo said no action could be taken that night.

"I was overly optimistic when I suggested that I could have an agreement before you tonight," Birkelo said. He asked the council to place the item on its next agenda, on June 15.

Many residents groaned and filed out of the council chambers.

Later, expansion opponent Ron Acosta told the council, "I could have stayed home tonight."

He said he was upset over sitting at the meeting for three hours "for naught."

Birkelo agreed to post notices at the council chamber entrance when major issues are going to be delayed. He also said that his secretary will give interested parties a personal phone call.

"We were working on this thing today, trying to decide if it could go to the council tonight," Birkelo said.

The committee which began meeting in November submitted a final report to the South San Francisco Unified School District Board of Trustees last week.

In earlier meetings, Committee Chairwoman Marge Blak let the board know that no school closings would be recommended for this fall.

However, the committee warned the board that it should "begin immediately to hold public meetings to prepare the community for the possible closing of a school."

Since the preliminary committee report in April, the committee has met twice to expand on its earlier recommendations.

Mrs. Blak said the committee also is recommending that:

- Other elementary school site vacated by regular enrollment be used to house the Baden Continuation High School on the South San Francisco Adult School and that the existing Baden site — a cluster of portable buildings and one older structure — be leased.
- The trustees carefully consider if special federal and state funded elementary school programs can be transferred to another campus before any school is closed.
- The school board continue to sell undeveloped properties to generate income.

The committee also handed the trustees its rank order ratings of the 14 elementary school sites based on the physical quality, special facilities, financial factors and other criteria.

New officers for the Olympia School PTA were installed at a recent luncheon. They are, from left, Linda Housfeld, parliamentarian, Tami Uziel, president, Carolee Podgett, secretary, Barbara Wilitala, treasurer, and Mercy Guilfoyle, vice president.

It was recommended that the board consider other factors than the rank order in closing schools, Mrs. Blak said.

The rank order report has not been released to the public by the trustees.

In its deliberations, the committee visited all the elementary schools and met with many district officials.

A meeting also was held with City Planner Bil Costanzo to discuss upcoming construction in South San Francisco that might generate more enrollment for the school district.

The board is expected to consider the committee recommendations over the next few months. The committee will reorganize in the fall, Mrs. Blak said.

Soccer Signups Start

It's been said that a baseball manager can't do much to affect a team, unless he's a bad manager. In other words, a good manager is good only because he doesn't LOSE games for his team. Best estimates I've heard for the difference in the win-lose column that a good manager might mean over the course of a season is about six wins. But a bad manager, so goes the argument, can lose a lot more than that.

I tend to go along with that theory at the professional level. But I'm not sure at the collegiate level, and I KNOW that a good coach can make a whale of a difference at the high school level. As can a bad coach. I've seen it happen. I've had personal experience. And I've seen and experienced it too many times for it to be my imagination.

The main reason, I suppose, is that at the high school level teaching is still so important. The players are more willing and eager to learn, they're not set in

The American Youth Soccer Organization, in conjunction with the Sky Lions of Daly City, is starting its final registration drive for the 1977-1978 season, which will begin in September.

Soccer is the fastest growing sport among the 6 to 18 year olds in America. One reason is that soccer is such a fast-moving game that each player is almost constantly running and gets many chances for ball contact.

Another reason for the growth rate of AYSO is its motto, "everyone plays" — each player, regardless of size or ability, plays at least half a game.

Boys are grouped into six age divisions, 6-7, 8-9, 10-11, 12-13, 14-15, 16-18.

Girls are grouped in four categories, 7-9, 10-12, 13-15, 16-18. Youngsters who want to be assured of a place on a team should sign up now.

During August, teams will be formed and late registration will be used to fill out teams which still have openings. At that time, no more personal requests will be honored, and there will be no guarantee of a place on a team.

Children then will be put on a waiting list and signed when needed on a first-come basis.

Former AYSO players also are urged to register now.

For registration go to Gellert Park June 18, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Coaches and referees are still needed, and anyone interested in helping can write to P.O. Box L, Daly City, Ca. 94017.

John Named SC's Best

Dan John, a two-year veteran of the Skyline College track team with a 3.75 grade point average, has been named SC's most outstanding sophomore athlete for 1976-77.

John won the Phil Garlington Award last week at Skyline's annual sports awards banquet.

The special Athletic Director's Award for contributions to the college's athletic programs were presented for the first time. Winners were Hal Hartzell, director of Skyline's business division, and President John Peterson.

Other sports honorees were: GOLF — MVP, Steve Landi. Most Improved, Lester Rubin. MEN'S TENNIS — MVPs, Steve Dean and Mike Micucci. Most Improved, Lester Rubin. Team Captain, Eitan Santos. WOMEN'S TENNIS — MVP, Kim Miller. Most Improved, Julie De La Cruz. TRACK AND FIELD — MVPs, Tony Hicks, Raphael Smith and Dan John. Most Improved, Jim Martinelli and John King. Co-Captains, Hicks, John. BASEBALL — MVP, Corey Price. Most Improved, Al Dunn. Team Captain, Reg Penicill.

Cypress Hills Sets Tourney

The 11th annual Cypress Hills Junior Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Cypress Hills Men's Club and the Daly City Lions Club, will be July 28-29.

Golfers who have not reached their 18th birthday are eligible to compete.

Remembering That One Loss Camino Goes All the Way

By CLAUDE HENRY
Correspondent

SALINAS — It may not be possible to find turning points in a 28-1 baseball season.

But, after El Camino High had won its second Central Coast Section title in three years at Municipal Stadium here Saturday night, beating Soquel 8-6 in the finals, Colt Coach Lou Zuardo remembered two key games.

One taught the Colts a small measure of humility. The other was survival of the fittest. The first was an early-season 11-1 loss to West Catholic Athletic League runnerup Sacred Heart. It was to be Camino's only loss.

"But the SH game showed that we could be beaten by any team unless we were mentally prepared to play baseball," said Zuardo. "It turned out to be a very beneficial loss for us."

The other "turning point" was Camino's 6-2 victory over WCAL titlist Serra in the CCS Region I semifinal. "As far as I was concerned," said Zuardo, "I figured the winner of that game would have a good chance to go all the way."

Go all the way Camino did, thanks to an iron-man pitching performance by John Donalaya.

Donalaya, who threw a complete game in El Camino's extra-inning 4-2 win

Friday over Buchser, relieved starter Rich Bordin with the bases loaded and two outs in the bottom of the fifth.

The Colts led 5-1 entering the inning, but an error followed by four successive walks brought Soquel to within one run. Donalaya stepped to the mound and issued another free pass to tie the score, but then struck out the next batter to end the inning.

Camino put the game away in the sixth after catcher Frank Vasquez was hit by a pitch and Ed Finnigan and Danny O'Regan drew bases-on-balls.

Rick Doran provided the key hit as he blooped a single over a drawn-in infield to bring home two runs. O'Regan, who had gone to third on Doran's hit, tried to score on a wild pitch but was unsuccessful. However, Doran later came around to score on a wild pitch to make it 8-5.

Soquel came back with a single run in the bottom of the frame but that was all the runs it could muster against the hard-throwing Donalaya.

"I was concerned about having to put John into the ball game after he pitched on Friday night. He told me before the game that he could go a couple innings, but if it had gone extra innings again I would have had to yank him," Colt Coach Lou Zuardo said.

Zuardo likened Donalaya's performance to the job former Colt Bob Humphrey (now at College of San Mateo) did down the stretch for Camino in 1975.

"I needed somebody in there who could throw strikes and an effective breaking ball," Zuardo commented. Donalaya did just that.

The sturdy 6-2, 208-pound senior went the final two and one third innings giving up three hits while fanning four and walking only one. He was credited with the win.

Soquel outthit the Colts 6-5, but also made four errors compared to only two by El Camino. Four of those Camino hits and two costly Soquel miscues came during EC's five-run third inning.

El Camino received a jolt to its confidence just prior to the game when catcher Dana Ynostroza discovered that he couldn't throw to the pitcher's mound after suffering a severely bruised shoulder on a foul tip in Friday night's game.

(Ynostroza later found out that he had been playing with a broken nose sustained during a collision in the Serra game, and also had a pulled tendon compliments of Camino's mob scene following Rich Bordin's game-winning homer Friday night.)

But Vasquez filled in and did a creditable job behind the plate as EC avenged last year's defeat in the CCS semifinals.

Charboneau led the way for SAL. Anita Hawley led the way for the "Whites" in a losing cause.

SIXTH GRADE DIVISION — Holy Angels upset the SAL Bumpers by taking two out of three games with scores of 17-15 and 15-5 after being shut out 15-0 in the second game by the Bumpers.

In other action OLM Whites upset the OLM Reds 15-7 and 15-8 behind the good lays of Joyce Walsh and Natalie Melendez.

7TH GRADE DIVISION — The OLM Whites defeated the St. Andrew Scots in the three games by winning 15-8 and 15-6 after losing a close 16-14 game.

Doing a fine job for OLM were Nicole Gianoulis Joy Minkel, Melanie Linder and Beth Stark. Playing well for St. Andrews was Diane Donnelly.

The BYA Stars downed the SAL Hotshots 15-4 and 15-7 as Armida Herrera turned in a good performance for BYA.

MAKES AN 'A'

Brett Beedle from the newly formed Daly City Dolphin Swim Team made "A" time for his 100 yard breast stroke on Saturday at the meet in South San Francisco.

RIBBON WINNER

Richard Segol was one of the swimmers from the Daly City Dolphins to win a ribbon at the AAU meet in South San Francisco last weekend.

ONE PLAYER who made first string on the San Francisco Academic Athletic Association All-League team who certainly wasn't a darling of politics was outfielder Craig Vidal, the only Lowell player to make the squad. That was quite a departure from the normal, as the Indians in recent years have often dominated all-star picking. Vidal, only a junior and considered a top prospect, hit for a very unpolitical .400 during a season when second baseman Sean Culloty of McAteer happened to be hitting an astronomical .585. But Culloty will be graduating, so Vidal may have a clear field for the batting title next year.

Vidal, incidentally, comes by his athletic prowess honestly. He is the son of Al Vidal, an outstanding basketball player at Mission High School a quarter of a century ago, and now one of the top collegiate basketball officials on the West Coast. Vidal is principal of Aptos Junior High School in San Francisco.

LOCAL NOTE: Terra Nova High School's basketball coach, Jim Soden, who was featured here in a two-part series recently, has been named assistant coach to the first annual girls' North All-Star Basketball Team, Region I and II. He will assist head coach Pat Wimberley, and he won't be lonely. One of the players will be his own Mo Turner. Two other familiar North Peninsula League faces on the squad will be Lani Amores and Lisa Maurino of Westmoor.

The game, which will be a preliminary to the boys' All-Star game, is scheduled for 6 p.m. on June 23 at the University of Santa Clara.

BASKETBALL TRIVIA: Who put in the most playing time in the NBA this year? No, it wasn't Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, although the way he played, maybe it should have been. Actually, Kareem wasn't even that close, as he stood ninth in the league in playing minutes. The leader was Washington's Elvin Hayes, who put in 3364 minutes.

If you're interested in such esoteria, following is the list of the Top 20 in the NBA in playing time: Hayes; Jo-Jo White, Boston, 3333; Rudy Tomjanovich, Houston, 3130; Billy Knight, Indiana, 3117; Norm Van Lier, Chicago, 3097; Randy Smith, Buffalo, 3094; Peter Maravich, New Orleans, 3041; Ron Boone, Kansas City, 3021; Jabbar, 3016; David Thompson, Denver, 3001; Don Buse, Indiana, 2947; Julius Erving, Philadelphia, 2940; Larry Kenon, San Antonio, 2936; John Havlicek, Boston, 2913; Rick Barry, Golden State, 2904; Artis Gilmore, Chicago, 2877; Maurice Lucas, Portland, 2863; Wes Unseld, Washington 2860; Mickey Johnson, Chicago, 2847; Phil Chenier, Washington, 2842.

It's interesting to note that eight of the top 20 are out of the ABA; nine, if you count Barry. Also interesting is that the top playing time is dominated by guards, rather than centers, as might be expected, and in fact this was true before Al Attles introduced alternating centers a few years ago.

At a recent Serramonte High School rally, the winners of student body offices and the 1977 cheerleading squad were announced.

The new officers are Lindsay Chu, president; Lisa Moeller, vice president; Imogene Mamoe, secretary; Loretta McNeil, treasurer; Shawn Dolgin, commissioner of athletics; June Lara, commissioner of elections; Marianne Lenci, commissioner of inside publicity; Julie Smith, commissioner of outside publicity, and Daria Wiggins, commissioner of rallies and entertainment.

The Spirit Staff for next year consists of varsity cheerleaders Imogene Mamoe, Barbara Ransby and Stacy Palmer. Junior varsity cheerleaders are Melissa Hannon, Rhonda Frelot, Regina King, Yvonne Youngblood and Lauanda Wesley.

Pep girls are Diana Law, Ty Renee McCowan and Marianne Galvin.

Also at the rally — the junior class, the class of 1978, was announced as the recipient of the Spirit Trophy. This trophy is given to the class showing the most spirit during the year.

Judging is based on a point system. Points are given for participation in rallies, making signs, winning contests and showing class spirit in other ways.

Throughout the school year, Serramonte's Environmental Education Program has been doing many exciting things.

The program's most recent trips have been a 15-day Death Valley Camping Trip and a trip to Nevada City.

The trip to Death Valley was quite an experience for the students. They were Donna Barnett, David Brock, Roger Campos, Dave Craig, Liane Fix, Nick Fretty, Nancy Genesi, Norm Goldberg, Dave Green, Tammy Holby, Debbie Miller, Matt Oakes, Stan Olsen, Barry Peppers, Kathy Riordin, Bob Shannon, Brenda Spitz, Hillary Tarrell, Jim Thalhammer, Stephanie Vincent, Scott Vogel, Scott Waldman and Megan Walker. Also attending were teacher Abe Evanich, Bob Incerti and Roy Skinner.

The trip included writing in personal journals, studying the desert ecosystem, learning camping and survival techniques, rock climbing and repelling, 48-hour solos during which students went off by themselves, and many other exciting things.

The weather was more than 100 degrees in the desert but the students managed to do a great deal of hiking, carrying their water and dehydrated food on their backs.

All who participated in this trip had a great experience and learned a lot about the wilderness and about themselves.

Next, for four days in May, the group traveled to Good morning, good cooks.

If you are a pound cake fancier, you are certainly going to fancy this golden rich cake.

Easy to mix and fix, this recipe makes two large, delicious loaf cakes.

GERMAN GOLD POUNDCAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup margarine (softened)
- 3 1/2 cups cake flour
- 1 cup milk
- 6 egg yolks
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Set oven at 350-degrees. Mix the one cup butter and two cups sugar until fluffy. Add the three and one-half cups flour and remaining ingredients gradually until well mixed. Scrape the beaters frequently. Beat at high speed for four minutes.

Bake in hot greased and floured loaf pans in 350-degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes, until toothpick comes out clean.

Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pan.

From the glories of a golden cake, we move on to the rather prosaic subject of how to make a hearty and delicious stew using ground meat as the main ingredient. The stew is super, so give it a try.

MEAT BALL STEW

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 1 egg
- 8 ounces tomato sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice
- 1 small onion, minced
- 3 cups water
- 1 package onion soup mix
- 1 1/2 cups sliced carrots
- 3 medium potatoes, cut in cubes
- 1/2 cup green pepper strips
- 1 package frozen peas

Mix the pound of ground beef with the half cup crumbs, one egg, 1/4 cup of the tomato sauce, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon each pepper and ground allspice and the minced onion. Form into 12 balls.

Heat two tablespoons oil in kettle. Add the meat balls and brown on all sides. Add remaining tomato sauce and three cups water, one package onion soup mix, one and one-half cup carrots, three medium potatoes, cubed and half cup green pepper strips. Bring to boil. Cook over very low heat for 45 minutes. Peas may be added during last few minutes of cooking time.

Served with a tossed green salad and crusty French bread for a tasty dinner.

Cooking Classes

A course in Cooking for Company, with plush yet simple to prepare international recipes, will be given Thursdays at 7 p.m. at Westmoor Adult High School in Daly City, starting June 23.

The Regent

Nevada City where they worked on the Cross California Ecosystem Hiking Trail.

The students worked on an eight-mile stretch of the trail which is paved so handicapped people may enjoy nature as environmentalists do.

The First Annual Serramonte World Team Tennis Tournament was recently completed.

The tournament was arranged by commissioner of athletics Lindsay Chu. Male and female students and faculty were encouraged to participate.

Each team had four to six members. The teams were determined by a random drawing and the members played singles and doubles in a round-robin style.

Congratulations to Shawn Dolgin's team for winning first place with a total of 110 games. Other members on this team were Jeff Lindstrom, Rusty Jurgenson, Mike Rubin, Alex Yee and Mr. M. Schneider.

Second place with 95 games went to Mr. A. Docto-lero, Frank Nicholas, Renee Contreras, Genny Hom, Ms. J. Gaynor and Mrs. J. Lewbin.

Third place winners with 93 games were Ramon Villafranca, Lori Wenzelberger, Diane Rubin, Lou Ciganovich, Kevin Covington and Mr. R. Sansoe.

World Team Tennis is new at Serramonte, but a perpetual trophy already has been established and this student-faculty tournament will become an annual Serramonte activity.

The Serramonte chapter of CSF (California Scholarship Federation) has taken many trips this year to various colleges and universities. CSF's most recent trips have been to the University of California at Berkeley and Davis.

At Berkeley, students toured the campus, went up in the university's famous Campanile tower, and then were free to visit departments, see the museum, or just enjoy the atmosphere of the college.

Next was the Davis trip. The students and advisor Mike Tugendreich left school at 8 a.m. and returned at 4 p.m.

While at Davis, students took a tour of the campus "tram" and then were given a dormitory tour and a further campus explanation by two Serramonte CSF alumni who attend the university, Jennifer McNeil and Amy Schwimmer.

A Senior Reception will be held for senior students and their families and friends on Tuesday, June 14, 7:30 p.m. at Serramonte High.

The evening will include the presenting of awards and a cake and coffee reception.

Club Members

Offer Reward

For Missing Deer

A 6-year-old deer that roamed freely on the California Golf Club property in South San Francisco and became a club pet is missing, and club members are posting a $1,000 reward.

Alice, the earth-colored doe who was pampered by golfers, has been missing since May 20, according to Manager Gary Bennett.

Every inch of the club's 190 acres has been scoured but there's no sign of Alice, Bennett said.

"We've had members out on safaris," Bennett said. When Alice was just a few months old, poachers killed and butchered her mother and brother, leaving their heads on the country club grounds.

The three deer had been cut off from the wooded areas around Skyline Boulevard when Highway 280 and Westborough Boulevard were constructed, Bennett said. But club members adopted the trio and they became pets.

The orphan Alice was cared for at the clubhouse and eventually grew to lead a peaceful and pampered life. Golfers fed her by hand, he said.

Club members are so upset about her disappearance that they are offering the $1,000 reward to anyone who provides information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who apparently killed or took Alice from the club property, Bennett said.

"We feel someone has a meat locker filled," Bennett said.

Jefferson Elementary School District teachers have, for the past couple of weeks, been periodically picketing homes of members of the Board of Trustees. Teachers are protesting the fact that no contract has been ratified for the 1976-77 school year. Here some dozen teachers picket the home of trustee David Parker.

DC Office Hours Told

Office hours for the new supervisory district office in Daly City have been announced by Fifth District Supervisor Fred Lyon.

Lyon will meet with north county constituents on the first and third Wednesdays of each month from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

Appointments can be made by calling 877-5335. Lyon also announced the appointment of Shirley Spencer of San Bruno to serve as volunteer coordinator for the new office, located in city hall, next to the city attorney's office on the second level. Lyon said he hopes to have a staff of volunteers set appointments for him and take information about ongoing problems and refer them to county departments. Members of the city council made the city hall space available to Lyon following some renovation work.

Pacifica Councilmen Seek Conflict Answer

The county district attorney says they are, the city attorney says they aren't and Pacifica Councilmen Stanley Farber and Mark Savage want to know if they're breaking the law.

The two councilmen have been trying to find out for 2½ years if their involvement with the Pacifica Youth Service Bureau could be deemed a conflict of interest, since the agency receives funds from the city. Farber serves on the Youth Service Bureau's board and Savage is director of the organization.

They have just requested an opinion on the matter from Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger through Assemblyman Louis Papan's office. No one else they have tried will give them a straight answer, according to Farber.

He explained that he's been trying to get an answer since Savage became a councilman more than two years ago.

"We want to get everything above board," Farber said.

He noted that City Atty. Gloria Scheid had ruled that there was no conflict of interest. "As long as Mark doesn't vote on the finances (of the Youth Service Bureau). He has to abstain."

But an opinion recently handed down by the county District Attorney's Office disagreed with that interpretation.

"The D. A.'s office says that I have a conflict because I act as his (Savage's) boss. I don't know how he figures that out — there are nine other people on the Youth Service Bureau board," Farber commented.

He said he doesn't know whether the district attorney's opinion "holds water."

"One problem is that the D.A.'s office is the attorney for the Youth Service Bureau," he said.

Farber said he is seeking the attorney general's opinion because "I believe there are only two ways to resolve this issue. You either get a firm opinion from the attorney general or you take it to court and get a judge's decision." Farber isn't holding his breath waiting for the word from Evelle Younger's office, however.

"You don't get things back very quickly from Younger unless it's a matter of Mom, apple pie and the American flag," he remarked.

DC Continues Mussel Rock Site Planning

By NANCY STANCILL
Daly City will "proceed with planning" on the proposed Mussel Rock solid waste transfer station, despite an appeal, filed Monday, which attempts to halt its development.

City Manager David Rowe said he is "surprised" that "Keep Pacifica Scenic" filed an appeal to be heard by the California Coastal Zone Commission.

"Keep Pacifica Scenic," a conservation group headed by Ruth Paige, has charged that a garbage transfer station would be an "extremely noisy, smelly and dirty" use of the coastal area.

Rowe pointed out that the Mussel Rock dump has existed for years without opposition and the proposed transfer station would be a fully-enclosed operation.

Rowe is optimistic about the appeal hearing, scheduled for July 5 or 6.

"I believe the permit issued will be upheld," he said.

The city manager said Daly City will not pursue alternate plans for future garbage disposal until the state's appeal decision is known.

He said, however, that the city will inform the Regional Water Quality Board of an expected delay.

The water quality agency last year ordered Daly City to stop using the Mussel Rock site as a garbage dump because of fears of landsliding and subsequent ocean pollution.

Daly City is supposed to cease dump use by Aug. 15, but city officials are fairly certain that an extension will be granted if transfer station construction is underway by that time.

However, Rowe said the appeal process may make it impossible for construction to be started by Aug. 15, even if the Central Coast Zone Regional Commission's decision is upheld.

The regional coastal commission granted Daly City the permit for transfer station construction May 16, after months of consideration and delays.
